Royal Visit

We have now had a meeting with Sir Andrew Buchanan, the Lord Lieutenant of Nottinghamshire, his County Council officer and the police representative, and learned a little more about the visit. Everything has to be planned very precisely, and Her Royal Highness has to personally approve the programme of events and the wording of the invitations etc.

All former long - standing members of the Village Hall Committee have now been invited to the ceremony, as have the grant-funding bodies, the village groups and individuals who have supported the village hall project and long term residents of the village.

We have tried to include everyone who has supported us, and sincerely hope that we have not caused any offence by missing anyone out. It has proved to be a difficult task, especially as the hall is not large enough to invite everyone. As they say, you can't make an omelette without breaking eggs!

There are still some jobs to be done to make the hall look its best. No-one turned up to help on November 18th, which was a shame. If you are willing to help with DIY jobs, please let a member of the committee know – we really could use some help, and it need not take up much of your time.
