Queen's Platinum Jubilee Celebration

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee celebration at Headon Village Hall on the 4th June was well attended by local residents from all four villages. As part of the event the jubilee cake competition was won by Jenny Parker, here shown on the right with judges Michael and Sue Browne.

SUCCESSFUL ART EXHIBITION

The 'Like Mother, Like Daughter' exhibition showing paintings by Jill and Evelyn Walker held over the weekend of the 18/19 June was a big success. The event was staged in Headon Church and saw well over 100 visitors during the two days. All enjoyed the diversity of art and the beautifully decorated church and also the enticing refreshments. £200 was made for the church repair funds and many people purchased the artwork. It was also a lovely social occasion where friends and neighbours could meet up over tea and cakes. So, a big thank you to all those locals who supported and enjoyed the event.

STEP project

At the last parish meeting, District Cllr Ant Coulte gave the council an update on the STEP programme. The STEP (Spherical Tokamak for Energy Production) programme is a UK Atomic Energy Authority (UKAEA) project to design and build a prototype fusion energy plant in the UK, targeting operations around 2040.

The UKAEA are currently assessing different sites to locate the plant, and West Burton A power station is one of the lead contenders. If selected, it could bring a host of benefits to the area - including 10,000 new jobs. It would also see a wealth of job opportunities in construction.

Nottinghamshire County Council is campaigning alongside EDF, Midlands Engine, D2N2 LEP and Bassetlaw District Council to see the site selected for the prototype reactor, on the strengths of the size of the land its proximity to other facilities.

The site rests on 300 hectares of land and is situated nearby to the UKAEA's Fusion Technology Facility, as well as other key manufacturers and suppliers behind nuclear projects.

The Cinema Club takes a well earned summer break and will return refreshed in September with the British comedy drama, 'The Phantom Of The Open'.

Puzzle Corner

Archie lied on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, but told the truth every other day of the week.
George lied on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, but told the truth every other day of the week.

Archie: I lied yesterday.

George: I lied yesterday, too.

What day of the week was yesterday?

Plants for Pollinators:

July - Verbena and Knapweed

July is usually the month with the greatest nectar flow, which happily coincides with bee colonies being at their largest. Honeybee colonies can reach up to 70,000 bees per hive during this month before numbers fall back as we approach the winter months.

Verbena Bonariensis is a tall leggy, short-lived perennial plant, native to the grasslands of South America. It is long flowering, drought tolerant, and hardy so long as it growing in a well-drained spot. It looks good in formal borders or more prairie planting styles. Even though it reaches 5 feet (150cm) or more, it is light and airy so it can be grown amongst other plants without blocking shorter things behind it. It attracts both bees and butterflies and will continue to flower until October.

Common Knapweed is normally found in our hedgerows from July to September. It can also be a useful plant for the garden, either in a wildflower corner or in the flowerbed. It is tolerant of poor soils and is easily grown from seed.

Painted Lady butterfly on a verbena flower.

Closely related to the cornflower, it is a rich source of nectar for all bees and many species of butterfly, including the peacock, painted lady and meadow brown. It also benefits moths and beetles and goldfinches love to feed on the hard ripe seedheads so it definitely deserves its place in a list of species important for wildlife.
